DEATH OF MRS. GUBBINS.—It is with great regret that we have to record the death, which took place suddenly at her residence, 119, Queen's Gate, S.W., on Saturday, the 6th inst., of Mrs. Gubbins, widow of the Rev. Richard Shard Gubbins, rector for many years of the parish of Upham. The deceased lady, like her husband, was very widely known and popularly esteemed. The late Rev. R. S. Gubbins was appointed to the then curacy of Upham in 1859, prior to which he was curate of Crawley under the Ven. Archdeacon Jacob. For the space of fourteen years he was curate in sole charge of the parish, and rector for eleven years subsequently, the living being the gift of the Crown. His courtesy and his kindness, together with that of his wife, as also their ever ready willingness to extend a helping hand to those in poorer circumstances, and the interest and sympathy shown by them on all occasions, endeared the late rector and his wife to every heart, and when, in turn, the iron arm of death has taken them off, the utmost sympathy has been shown by those who found in them real and genuine friends in every sense of the term. It was during the residence of the late Rev. R. S. Gubbins that the fine old parish church was restored, and a north aisle and vestry, the foundation-stone of which was laid by Mrs. Hornby in 1881, were added, and also the Lower End Schools, now used for public worship, built. In this work he was very materially assisted by his wife, who was instrumental in the organisation of bazaars, &c., which resulted in nearly all the required sums being forthcoming. She supplemented the efforts of those who assisted her with her own private purse, and Upham is much the richer to-day for the results which attended her ever-constant labours. Apart from the duties of home and the calls in other directions made on her she devoted much of her time in sick visiting, and her kindness and practical sympathy always made her welcome within every household. Shortly, the scope of her good work was larger than was generally known. Since the late Mrs. Gubbins has taken up her residence in London she has not forgotten the parish, wherein her name will live for many generations. The funeral of the deceased lady, who was the daughter of the late J. E. W. Rolls, Esq., of the Hendre, Mon., and Mrs. Rolls, daughter of the late Mr. and Lady Mary Long, of Preshaw, Hants, took place on Wednesday afternoon, the body being laid to rest in the same grave as that which contains the remains of her husband, who, it will be remembered, died in 1884. The coffin was brought down from London by the train arriving at Eastleigh shortly after one p.m., where it was met by a hearse and five closed landaus, the cortège then proceeding by road. Upon its arrival at the church the procession was met by the Rector (the Rev. E. L. H. Tew) and the Rev. Canon Harding. The choir also met the mourners at the south door, and as the coffin entered the church the organist (Mr. Dowden) played "I know that my Redeemer liveth." The service in the church was conducted by the Rector, Mendelssohn's funeral march being rendered by the organist, while the hymns "Nearer, my God, to Thee" and "Abide with me" were sung. At the graveside the Rev. Canon Harding concluded the brief but impressive service, the choir singing "For all the saints who from their labours rest." The mourners and others present were Mr. J. Cornwallis Gubbins, the Rev. Edward and Mrs. Gubbins, Mr. J. Gubbins, Mrs. Gubbins (Bishopstoke), Lord and Lady Llangattock, Colonel Tufnell, M.P., and Mrs. Tufnell, Mr. and Mrs. F. Johnstone Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin, the Rev. Canon and Mrs. Harding, Col. and Mrs. Chester Master, Capt. and Mrs. Cosby, Mr. Walter Long, Mr. W. V. Long, Mrs. Payne, the Rev. W. E. "In the midst of life we are in death," and others, the cards of which were probably lost, in addition to many flowers brought by the parishioners and laid on the grave. The late Mrs. Gubbins was actively engaged in much work in London, and her labours in connection with the Royal School of Art Needlework, South Kensington, of which she was one of the vice-presidents, under H.R.H. Princess Christian, and the Waifs and Strays Society and the Church Army, will long be remembered. Capt. Gubbins, D.S.O., was, unfortunately, unable to be present owing to absence with his regiment in South Africa. The funeral arrangements on the arrival of the body were carried out by Messrs. T. A. Brown and Sons, of Winchester, in conjunction with Messrs. Hatt and Son, of High-street, Kensington, who superintended from London, the grave being lined by Mr. S. Mitchell.
